Revolt Against Defense Budget

LONDON (AP) — In the biggest party revolt of the Labor government's 2½ years in power, 46 Laborite members of the House of Commons abstained Tuesday night from the vote on the government's defense budget. The House approved it, 270-231, but Labor's usual majority of about 90 was cut to 39.

The dissident Laborites had a variety of complaints: That Britain should abandon its Far Eastern role, that the government should trim all defense expenses sharply, or that recent party policies are generally wrong.

Computerized Job Placement

The GRAD system, designed for college graduates of all ages, collects resumes which are fed into computers by teletypewriter, as shown at right, and stored on magnetic tape by job specification, as pictured above. The resumes themselves are microfilmed and then stored in a special random access system, shown above right, which enables quick recovery. The information in the computer can be scanned in a matter of seconds in the search by a specific employer for individuals with very specific skills and qualifications. An employer, for example, may request a number of candidates for a job he has available. He specifies the desired college degree, language facility, experience, present and desired salaries, and fields of present interest, and asks for candidates wanting the appropriate geographical location, or any of a dozen other selectors available. As a result, the field is narrowed to several prime candidates for the job, and the normal process of interviewing and negotiating then follows between candidates and employers. Employers pay a basic $400 fee to participate in the system, plus additional charges for each time they use the services. Prospective employees pay nothing.

Employers spend an estimated billion dollars a year searching for new talent. Meanwhile, college graduates often reach out semibindily, groping
for the employer
whose tasks best fit their abilities and preferences. The answer may be computerized job placement, putting the two on each other's trail within a matter of minutes. It's being done with the Graduate Resume Accumulation and Distribution system, operated by a nonprofit organization in Bethlehem,

Family Wins Roles

David Scott, director of music at 1st Baptist Church in Hope and his wife Francis and son Shannon each have won roles in the March 20, 21, 22 musical, "Oliver!" at Henderson
State College.

Nine year old Shannon will star in the title role. His parents will play the part of Mr. and Mrs.
Bumble, characters taken straight from Charles Dickens' Oliver Twist but given a gay musical flavor. Shannon will perform March 21st.

Scott has been on the Ouachita

Baptist University Faculty for 13 years and sung leading roles in Oratorio's, Operas and starred in "The Music Man" and "Sound

numerous television shows in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Arkansas and has done roles in opera, oratorios and appeared with the Simmons University Symphony Orchestra and the Little Rock Symphony. She is also on the OBU faculty. He studied

Chain Buys Cleveland Newspaper

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —
Samuel I. Newhouse has purchased the Cleveland Plain Dealer — reportedly for $50 million, the highest price paid for a single newspaper in the history of American journalism.

The short and peppery 72-year-old Newhouse now has 22 newspapers coast to coast, counting morning and evening papers in the same city separately but not counting Sunday editions. Their total circulation is about 3.3 million.

The Plain Dealer — Ohio's largest morning paper with a circulation of 377,089 on weekdays and 526,401 on Sundays — is now the largest in the Newhouse newspaper group.

Newhouse, eldest of eight children of Russian immigrant parents, also owns television and radio stations and magazines.

A source close to Newhouse, who began to acquire control of newspapers 56 years ago, said today he is still in the market for another good newspaper publishing proposition.

Newhouse started running newspapers at the age of 16, when he was put in charge of the rundown Bayonne (N. J.) Times. He soon had the paper in the black.

The 125-year-old Cleveland Plain Dealer, which employs about 2,200 persons, announced sale of the paper Thursday. No price was announced.

The reported $50-million price tag broke a record set by Newhouse in 1962 when he paid $41 million for the New Orleans Times-Picayune and the New Orleans States-Item.

ings remain to be clarified,

Senate Bill Allows Club Gambling

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill creating a five-member crime commission empowered to license gambling in private clubs slipped through the Arkansas Senate Thursday, but ran into an immediate delay in the House.

The bill by Sen. Q. Byrum
Hurst of Hot Springs cleared the Senate 18-16, barely enough for passage. Rep. Jim McKissack of Star City objected to a second reading later when the measure reached the House and he was upheld, delaying the bill for at least a day.

Hurst's bill allows private club gambling only in counties where pari-mutuel betting is permitted under the constitution — meaning only Garland County — and permits one club for each 15,000 residents.

"We're asking you to let us do legally what you are asking us to do every night illegally," Hurst said.

Meanwhile, the Senate tabled
a resolution by Rep. John Miller of Melbourne calling on Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to enforce the state's gambling laws in every area of the state.
Sen. Dan T. Sprick of Little Rock, in the unusual role of defender of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, said the resolution would "only put the man on the second floor on the spot."

"He's going to do it anyway to the best of his ability," Sprick said of the governor.

In the House, supporters of more pay for legislators, after two unsuccessful tries, pushed through an amendment giving members of the General Assembly money for "public relations" expenses.

The amendment by Rep. N.
B. Murphy of Hamburg gives all the members of the legislature except the House speaker up to $300 a month — or $2-400 a year — for public relations activities above their yearly $1,200 salaries.

The amendment also increases the public relations appropriation of six constitutional officers and the speaker from $1,800 to $3,000 a year.

The bill has been interpreted as a method of getting around the constitutional restrictions on salaries. The measure, which originally appropriated $4,800 a year for each of the six constitutional officers and the speaker and nothing for the legislators, has not come up for final consideration.

Gambling Raids Net 27 Slots

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—
State Police confiscated 27 slot machines from three Hot Springs establishments Thursday as they conducted their second gambling raid this week at Hot Springs.

The first raid Wednesday brought only one arrest as the State Police began to apply the pressure in Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's declared war on illegal gambling in the state.

Col. Herman Lindsey, State Police director, said raids were conducted Thursday on the Frontier Club, the Palms and the Shamrock Cafe, all across the street from Oaklawn Park.

Lindsey said the owners of all three places were arrested and charged with displaying gambling devices. Each made $500 bond. The owners are Ellis Agree of the Palms, where 11 slot machines were taken; William Sellers of the Frontier Club and John Beckum of the Shamrock, where eight slot machines were taken at each place.

The Thursday raids were carried out without search warrants "because the men were successful in getting in without being refused," Lindsey said.

Of the three clubs raided Thursday, only the Palms is a private club. Lindsey said the raids were led by Capt. Kenneth McKee, head of the Uniform Division of the Highway Patrol. He was accompanied by 12 men.

The Wednesday night raids
on eight private clubs at Hot Springs resulted in the arrest of the proprietor of the Cameo Club, Mrs. Thelma Page. A vacant room above the club was the only place officers found any gambling equipment.

An unidentified State Police source said Thursday that gambling equipment was being moved out of clubs in Hot Springs less than an hour after warrants for the eight raids were obtained.

State Police Maj. William C.
Strubbing said a dismantled dice table, a "bird cage" and a quantity of dice, cards, and dice cups were found at the Cameo Club.

No gambling equipment was found in raids at Cliff's Club,
the White Front, the Citizen's Club, the Palms, the Oasis, the Bridge Street Club and the Ohio Club, officers said.

Schools, Sex Topic of Red Magazine

MOSCOW (AP) — A youth magazine said today that lack of sex education in the schools is a major factor in delinquency
among Soviet girls.

The monthly Yunost said that replies to questionnaires given in reform schools "tell us that for the majority of girl inmates, crime was closely connected with early sexual life."

"It is impossible to forget that our educational system is still
'sexless,' the magazine said.
"And it probably will continue to be so, judging by the fact that no changes are planned in the future."

Girls 15 to 18 said early sexual experiences led them to associate with disreputable boys, and this in turn led to stealing and other crimes.

The magazine commented:
"This is the same, often stated problem of sex education, which is not yet being solved."

Puritanical elements in Soviet society strongly oppose lectures on sex. Yunost used a proverb to warn that if teen-agers don't learn about sex in the schools they will find out elsewhere.

"Nature which is driven out the door comes back in through the window."

The article complained that the curriculum in Soviet teacher's colleges contains "not even a hint" of a course that would help teachers deal with sex education in high schools.

House Rejects Anti-bombing Declaration

By JACK MILLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has rejected an anti-bombing declaration and voted $4.5 billion to finance Vietnam fighting.

After a sometimes fiery 4½-hour debate the House approved by voice vote Thursday the military authorization bill asked by President Johnson. The Senate passed a similar measure Wednesday.

Minutes before the showdown vote, the House defeated 372 to 18 an amendment by Rep.
George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., that would have banned use of the funds to finance military activities "in or over" North Vietnam.

A Senate-House conference committee will hammer out minor differences in the versions of the money measure.

While House debate swirled around Vietnam, the Senate on unanimously approved the nomination of Ramsey Clark as attorney general and argued the merits of a pending congress-sional reorganization measure.

Elsewhere in the capital, the President's Social Security proposals drew Republican fire at a House Ways and Means Committee hearing. And a number of senators expressed pleasure at Johnson's announcement that he was telling the truth in

Quotes WR Favorable to Toll Removal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A November copy of the Helena World was circulated in the Arkansas Senate Thursday in which the World quoted Gov.
Winthrop Rockefeller as pledging his support for removal or lowering of tolls on the Helena Bridge.

The copy of the newspaper was circulated by Sen. Joe Lee Anderson of Helena after Rockefeller vetoed a bill which would have removed the tolls on the bridge for at least two years with the state picking up the tab.

Rockefeller said that he still favors removing or lowering the tolls, but said that he did not believe the burden of repaying the bridge financing funds should be shifted to the state as it was in the bill he vetoed.

Anderson said he circulated the material to show the Senate that he was telling the truth in his earlier statement that he saw Rockefeller's face when it was being debated.

KEEP IT CLEAN—YOUR LAUNDRY: Once upon a time there was a washerwoman . . . But, man, those days are gone forever. YOU are the washerwoman (guys, too, lots of times) when mom's not handy to whirl that machine. Out of the millions of washing, drying, etc., home laundry machines in the country, most of them get run one time or another by youth. So here are a mess of novel tips on "keeping it clean."

WASH CORRUPT dug up from the Cleanliness Bureau. In laundering, be sure you get into hot water—at least 140 degrees . . . soap or detergent?—read the instructions on the packages to guide you . . . pre-soak extremely dirty or oily (work-stained) clothes first in a pail of hot suds plus kerosene. When gals do lingerie, a touch of cologne in the last rinse adds to "sniff-ability." Wash corduroy wrong side out, since the ribbing attracts lint (omit lint-makers from this batch of wash). To iron things out right, it's often enough to "finger-finish" (instead of ironing) . . . shaping or stretching taut such points as collars, seams, bra cups. And, if you need to break off ironing and want to keep your wash damp but not exposed to mildewing, simply roll up and stow in the refrigerator. For guys, one of the best tips on "keeping it clean" is—buy that cinchy-to-laundry stuff . . . Such as, drip-dry permanent press shirts and slacks, the fast drying nylon socks, those washable Dacron ties . . . And always read the hang tags to know what you're buying and to get the right slant on "keeping it clean" (for instance, lots of wools are machine-washable now). Of course, you know what's going to happen when you buy those zippy permanent crease clothes and give them the laundry treatment—your sister's going to wear them!

LUCKY UNLUCKY BUCK—SPOT THOSE TWO-SPOTS: The $2 bill, frequently considered unlucky (seems lots of people feared they'd get back change for a $1 bill), is a lucky piece, today. If one lands in your hands, grab that two-spot tightly. Because Uncle Sam's stopped printing 'em . . . they're getting scarce . . . and, chances are, before you retire on Social Security, your $2 will be worth much more.

PWP, DIVORCE AND YOU: Parents Without Partners is a club of people who are divorced (or widowed) and have growing children . . . an organization whose members get together to try to solve a common personal problem. What's this got to do with you? Could be you're a divorced teen-ager (divorce rate is three or four times higher than in other age groups) . . . but, more possibly, you're one of the 10 million American children with divorced parents. PWP recognizes that divorce can be one of the most shattering of human experiences . . . that the most valuable thing is to find a way to work out bitter and self-crippling emotions toward the now-broken-away partner . . . and that the children (it can hit teen guys and gals hardest) are the most important pieces to salvage out of the wreckage. PWP tries to bring children into a family atmosphere as much as possible, mixing them up with its ball of social activities (dancing, bowling, roller skating, skiing, chess, swimming, coffee and conversation . . . everything) for "single" men and women parents. Guiding principles are: Reassure your children that the other parent loves them, encourage them to respect him (or her); remember the best parts of your marriage and share these with your children NOW, teen-age auxiliaries have just sprung up for guys and gals whose parents are PWPs . . . they hold meetings (run by themselves with help of a senior adviser) . . . where they talk things out . . . see brothers or sisters now living with the other parent . . . sometimes even work for a new marriage. Teen PWPs, exchanging notes, come to realize they were not responsible for what happened . . . learn how to handle sticky situations of explaining things to friends . . . know they're not alone. If you want to find out about PWP and these new teen chapters, Parents Without Partners 80 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10011 will be glad to answer letters.

CHAMP GREETING CARD: The greeting card industry, which has taken the grim labor out of your task of Happy Birthday, Happy Graduation, Get Sick (sorry, we mean WELL) messages, cheerfully reports that one of the biggest selling cards ever . . . is this—Dearest. When People Ask Me What I See in You—What Shall I Tell Them?

Out of the millions of washing, drying, etc., home laundry machines in the country, most of them get run one time or another by youth. So here are a mess of novel tips on "keeping it clean."

WASH CORRUPT dug up from the Cleanliness Bureau. In laundering, be sure you get into hot water—at least 140 degrees . . . soap or detergent?—read the instructions on the packages to guide you . . . pre-soak extremely dirty or oily (work-stained) clothes first in a pail of hot suds plus kerosene. When gals do lingerie, a touch of cologne in the last rinse adds to "sniff-ability." Wash corduroy wrong side out, since the ribbing attracts lint (omit lint-makers from this batch of wash). To iron things out right, it's often enough to "finger-finish" (instead of ironing) . . . shaping or stretching taut such points as collars, seams, bra cups. And, if you need to break off ironing and want to keep your wash damp but not exposed to mildewing, simply roll up and stow in the refrigerator. For guys, one of the best tips on "keeping it clean" is—buy that cinchy-to-laundry stuff . . . Such as, drip-dry permanent press shirts and slacks, the fast drying nylon socks, those washable Dacron ties . . . And always read the hang tags to know what you're buying and to get the right slant on "keeping it clean" (for instance, lots of wools are machine-washable now). Of course, you know what's going to happen when you buy those zippy permanent crease clothes and give them the laundry treatment—your sister's going to wear them!

LUCKY UNLUCKY BUCK—SPOT THOSE TWO-SPOTS: The $2 bill, frequently considered unlucky (seems lots of people feared they'd get back change for a $1 bill), is a lucky piece, today. If one lands in your hands, grab that two-spot tightly. Because Uncle Sam's stopped printing 'em . . . they're getting scarce . . . and, chances are, before you retire on Social Security, your $2 will be worth much more.

PWP, DIVORCE AND YOU: Parents Without Partners is a club of people who are divorced (or widowed) and have growing children . . . an organization whose members get together to try to solve a common personal problem. What's this got to do with you? Could be you're a divorced teen-ager (divorce rate is three or four times higher than in other age groups) . . . but, more possibly, you're one of the 10 million American children with divorced parents. PWP recognizes that divorce can be one of the most shattering of human experiences . . . that the most valuable thing is to find a way to work out bitter and self-crippling emotions toward the now-broken-away partner . . . and that the children (it can hit teen guys and gals hardest) are the most important pieces to salvage out of the wreckage. PWP tries to bring children into a family atmosphere as much as possible, mixing them up with its ball of social activities (dancing, bowling, roller skating, skiing, chess, swimming, coffee and conversation . . . everything) for "single" men and women parents. Guiding principles are: Reassure your children that the other parent loves them, encourage them to respect him (or her); remember the best parts of your marriage and share these with your children NOW, teen-age auxiliaries have just sprung up for guys and gals whose parents are PWPs . . . they hold meetings (run by themselves with help of a senior adviser) . . . where they talk things out . . . see brothers or sisters now living with the other parent . . . sometimes even work for a new marriage. Teen PWPs, exchanging notes, come to realize they were not responsible for what happened . . . learn how to handle sticky situations of explaining things to friends . . . know they're not alone. If you want to find out about PWP and these new teen chapters, Parents Without Partners 80 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10011 will be glad to answer letters.

Catholics, Jews in Joint Prayer

MADRID (AP) — More than 1,000 Catholics and Jews held a joint religious prayer session to Madrid for the first time last night just four days after the Spanish national cabinet approved a new law of religious freedom for non-Catholics in the Roman Catholic nation.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Dinah Shore is either still madly enamored of show business or has bad judgment.
Dinah was torn deliciously between a midwinter decision to visit friends in Acapulco or to relax at Palm Springs.
Then CBS called and invited her to go to Minsk and make a pair of television shows — they said, on a couple of circus specials.

Miss Shore, without a thought, dropped Acapulco and Palm Springs. She picked up an assortment of evening gowns, five fur coats and a couple of changes of thermal underwear. Then with her favorite hair-dresser and her press agent, she took off for a fortnight of work behind the Iron curtain in winter, when the thermometer hovered around 25 degrees below zero.

"I also was outfitted with some beautiful, soft boots because Russia, they said, is cold in winter," reported the singer. "They looked so beautiful and were so soft that all the Russians in Minsk stared first at my boots — almost nobody looked at the fur coats or at me. And I want to tell you that while I had the most beautiful boots, I undoubtedly had the coldest feet in Russia."

Blonde Dinah, with a disposition as happy as her voice sounds, enjoyed every minute of her visit to the Soviet Union.

"The audiences couldn't understand any of the words of the songs," she reported, "but the one they seemed to like best was "Under a Blanket of Blue." My own worst moment came when I walked into a cage for a number with some Siberian tigers — although the tamer assured me I was perfectly safe."

That Oily Hair Problem
Long straight hairstyles are ideal for women with dry or normal hair but can be a problem for those with oily hair. Excess oil causes hair to separate, making it difficult to maintain the smooth look essential to the beauty of straight styles. So that oily hair isn't too much of a problem, be sure to shampoo frequently using a mild shampoo. Wash hair twice, making certain it's squeaky clean after the second rinse. Try a thorough brushing before each shampoo, using a brush that has a thin piece of gauze wrapped around the bristles. This helps to eliminate excess oil.
Soak Those Split Ends
If hair splits are a problem, try soaking ends in baby oil and sitting under a dryer for 45 to 60 minutes. Wash hair until it's squeaky clean and follow with a mild cream rinse. Now your hair is ready for setting and drying and no split ends.

Jinx Hits Teams After Spot Is Won

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Wooden of the unbeaten and top-ranked UCLA Bruins was named the college basketball Coach of the Year by The Associated Press today.

The 56-year-old Wooden, whose UCLA teams have won 99 and lost only 10 in their last 109 games, is favored to lead his boys to the national championship this year for the third time in four seasons.

The Man from Indiana or the Wizard of Westwood, as the native of Martinsville, Ind., is sometimes called, beat out Bill van Breda Kolff, of Princeton, to win the first Coach of the Year poll held by The Associated Press.

Wooden received 75 votes to 59 for van Breda Kolff in balloting by 277 sports writers and broadcasters.

Dean Smith of North Carolina was third in the voting with 26. Bernard (Peck) Hickman of Louisville was fourth with 17 and Ray Mears of Tennessee fifth with 12.

Roy Skinner of Vanderbilt, Johnny Oldham of Western Kentucky and Ralph Miller of Iowa each received nine votes. Rounding out the first 10 were Bob Nichols of Toledo and Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois who tied with eight.

Larry Glass of Northwestern, with six votes, and Bob Cousy of Boston College, with five, headed an additional list of 20 coaches who received one or more votes.

John Benington of Michigan State and Moe Iba, of Memphis State, each got four votes. Guy Lewis of Houston, Don Haskins of Texas Western, Joe Swank of Tulsa and Lou Henson of New Mexico State tied at three each. Lou Watson of Indiana and Vic Bubas of Duke each got two.

The remaining 10 each received one vote. They were Sox Walseth of Colorado, Joe Vancisin of Yale, Don Kennedy of St. Peter's, N.J., Bob MacKinnon of Canisius, Tommy Bartlett of Florida, Lou Carnaseca of St. John's, N.Y., Don Donher of Dayton, Ted Owens of Kansas, Jack Kraft of Villanova and Hank Anderson of Gonzaga.

Reflecting his worst season ever at Kentucky, Adolph Rupp, the nation's winningest coach, did not receive a single vote.

Decision on Illinois Coach Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The jury of Big Ten faculty representatives deliberated Friday the sentence for the University of Illinois, which has admitted recruiting irregularities and has asked for leniency.

Marcus Plant of Michigan, secretary of the faculty group and president of the NCAA, said he was not certain exactly when a decision would be announced. The annual March business meetings of the conference end Saturday.

University President Dr. David D. Henry, faculty representative and acting athletic director Leslie Bryan, and university attorney James Costello presented a day-long appeal by Illinois Thursday.

The session started with a 45-minute appeal from Dr. Henry for a softening of last week's mandate by the conference's athletic directors that Illinois fire coaches Pete Elliott, Harry Combes and Howard Braun or show cause why the university should not be suspended or expelled from the Big Ten.

The coaches are guilty of distributing payments from an illegal $21,000 petty fund uncovered by the university in December. Dr. Henry turned all evidence over to the Big Ten, placed Elliott and Combes on a year's probation and ruled 12 football and basketball players ineligible.

It was disclosed Thursday that actually there were 14 cases presented involving athletes. Their eligibility also is being studied by the faculty men.

Balboa, Spanish explorer who discovered the Pacific Ocean, later was arrested for treason and was executed.

Baylor Wins Final Game From Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks ended their basketball season on a losing note here Thursday night as Baylor outscored the Razorbacks from the free throw line to gain a 68-55 Southwest Conference victory.

Both teams scored 22 field goals in the game, but Baylor flipped in 13 points on free throws in the last five minutes of the game to win it.

First white man to pass through Cumberland Gap was Gabriel Arthur who in 1673 went over the well worn Indian trail of the mountains.

Bobcats Roll Over Camden in Finale

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Star Sports Writer

The Hope Bobcats completed their 1967 basketball season last night by rolling over the Camden Panthers, 73-53, in a Region 4AA game at Camden.

Although things were close through the first half of play, the Bobcat fast break allowed the visitors to pull away in the final two quarters. In doing so the Cats closed out their conference schedule with a won-lost mark of 9-7.

On the other hand for the Panthers, who also rounded out their basketball year last night, the loss brought the 4AA record to one win against 15 losses. Still yet it was evident that Camden was a much improved ball team from the one which the Cats swamped, 87-51, about a month ago at Hope.

This was evident in the stiff challenge which Camden threw up through the first and second quarters. Not only did they lead most of the first period but they never let up throughout the game. Even when the game appeared out of sight late in the fourth quarter the Panthers were playing to win.

Camden jumped to an early 5-0 lead and managed to stay ahead through most of the initial period before falling behind by one point just before the end of the quarter. After one, the Cats held a 17-16 command.

Things remained equally close in the second quarter as the Panthers temporarily stymied the Hope fast break and added some heroics of their own. The margin of difference swayed from two to eight before the halftime intermission and finally came to rest at a 32-26 Bobcat advantage.

The Bobcat press allowed the Hope boys to begin to leave the pack in the third period as they stretched this lead to 13 points, 47-34, entering the final stanza. Through the fourth quarter the Cats added 7 more points to their lead bringing the final score to 73-53; and with the end of the game came the end of the season for the Bobcats.

Head Coach Joe Austin will lose six of the 1967 traveling squad to graduation. These include seniors Stan Reyenga, Stan Parris, Mike Westbrook, Luther Shaw, Mike Franks, and Danny Griffis.

High scorer for the game was Parris who tossed in 22 points. Other Bobcats scoring included Reyenga with 12, Shaw with 11, Larry East with 10, Griffis and Franks with 6, Dwight Galloway with 4, and Donnie Middlebrooks with 2.

In the B-team game Camden's Jr. varsity rose to overcome a brilliant Hope full court press and to win 80-73 in the final minutes of play.

Although the score was tied at 40 - all during the halftime, Camden managed to outscore the Hope team 19-15 and 21-18 in the third and fourth quarters respectively to salvage the victory.

Ricky Putman and Donnie Middlebrooks together led Hope in scoring with 16 points apiece. Terry Hallr added 7 and Jerry Hartfield had 4. Monte Garner and Wayne Norvel contributed 2 points each.

9th Spot to Be Difficult to Replace

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ninth spot in the Los Angeles Dodger batting order every fourth day when Sandy Koufax would have pitched is going to be difficult to fill, but not as tough as finding someone to hit first every day.

"That will be the toughest spot to fill," says Manager Walter Alston. "You tell me who's going to play this year, and I'll tell you who will lead off."

The problem, of course, arose when the Dodgers traded lead-off shortstop Maury Wills to Pittsburgh for Bob Bailey and Gene Michaels after Sandy Koufax retired.

To replace the base-stealing, switch-hitting singles-hitting Wills, Alston has such possibilities as Wes Parker, Willie Davis, Dick Schofield or maybe Bailey or newly-acquired second-baseman Ron Hunt.

If Parker wins the six-way battle for first base and Michaels replaces Wills at shortstop, Parker will be the leadoff hitter, Alston indicated. Center fielder Davis could fill the void against left-handed pitching and as could utility infielder Schofield if an when he plays.

"I'd like to hit Ron Hunt second if I can find a leadoff batter," Alston says.

But Bailey continues to impress Alston. "Day in and day out," Alston says, "Bailey has been the player who has impressed me this spring. I like the way he hits to right field and the way he's been hitting the barriers. He may be one of those players who has not reached his potential yet."

While Alston was worrying over his leadoff man, pitchers Steve Barber of the world champion Baltimore Orioles and Ken Johnson of the Atlanta Braves eased the minds of their bosses.

Barber, the ace of the Oriole staff the first half of last season when he won 10 games before tendonitis sidelined him, threw 15 minutes of painless batting practice Thursday.

"Right now the arm, like the rest of me, is very, very tired," said the 28-year-old left-hander who won 20 games in 1963. "But there is no pain, no strain — just stiffness. It feels no different than in any other spring."

Johnson delighted the Braves Thursday when he worked on the mound for the first time since he underwent knee surgery six months ago to remove torn cartilage.

Pitching Coach Whitlow Wyatt said he is hopeful Johnson would be able to start when the season opens in April.

Others who have hit homers over the roof are Babe Ruth, Jerry Lynch, Ed Matthews, Bob Skinner, Ted Beard, Wally Moon and Mickey Vernon.

Black Hawks Winging to Championship

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks are winging their way toward the National Hockey League championship and even Coach Billy Reay is confident the club will win the Prince of Wales Trophy for the first time in its history.

"I think it would take some kind of a miracle to beat us out of it now," Reay said Thursday night after the Hawks boosted their lead to 15 points over New York in a 5-2 romp against the Bruins.

"There's tremendous spirit on the club, and no one is going to catch us," Reay said. "They said we collapsed when we were beaten out in past years. However, I don't buy that. The Montreal Canadiens won by beating us in key games. This year we're not losing key games."

Five players, including Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull, scored as the Hawks followed a 6-1 rout of the Rangers Wednesday night by humbling the Bruins for the sixth straight time in Boston this season.

The Black Hawks were outshot 33-21 by the last-place Bruins, but Chicago goalie Glenn Hall turned in a spectacular performance, grudgingly surrendering a first period goal to Ed Westfall and a tally by Wayne Connelly in the finale.

Mikita, helped by Hull, tied the count 1-1 on a picturesque power play goal in the first period. It was the NHL scoring leader's 30th goal of the campaign and hoisted his point production to 81.

Rookie defenseman Ed Van Impe put the Hawks in front to stay late in the first period. After a scoreless middle session, Chico Maki, Dennis Hull and Bobby Hull struck in the third period.

Bobby Hull, assisted by Mikita, continued his bid for another 50-goal season with his 44th.

Latin Leads Golf Trail in the Doral

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Homero Blancas, a fun-loving Latin who has dramatic ups and downs on the golf trail, led the $100,000 Doral Open into today's second round with a record-tying six-under-par 65, but plenty of people were breathing down his neck.

Joe Goldstrand, who used to play on the University of Houston golf team, and Tommy Aaron, a seven-year pro still looking for his first tournament victory stood just one stroke back.

And, even more formidable in Blancas' immediate future, Arnold Palmer lurked just two strokes back and Jack Nicklaus, bunched with seven others at 68, was in quick striking position.

Blancas and Goldstrand grabbed the early spotlight in the opening day's play Thursday as they chopped up the 7,002-yard Doral Blue Monster course with apparent ease.

Collecting six birdies, the 28-year-old Blancas posted a score that has been equaled only by Doug Sanders in 1965 and Kermit Zarley last year.

Blancas, Rookie of the Year in 1965, looked like he was well in the clear until Goldstrand, who isn't even listed in the PGA player catalog, came winging home with a 68.

Half Million Up for Grabs at Hialeah

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Topped by three $100,000-added races, two of them for 3-year-olds exclusively, nearly one-half million dollars will be up for grabs in the weekend feature races for thoroughbreds.

The gold-laden spree starts today with the 38th running of the 1¼-mile Flamingo at Hialeah Park, for which 11 of the best 3-year-olds training in Florida have been named. It continues Saturday with the renewal of the 1¼-mile Santa Anita Derby at Santa Anita, which attracted 13 sophomores, and the 1¼-mile John B. Campbell Handicap for older performers at Bowie.

With 11 starters, the Flamingo will have a gross value of $144,600 and the winner will earn $93,900. The entry of Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' two-time stakes winner Reflected Glory and Patrice Jacobs' Reason to Hall has been made the 8-5 choice. Mrs. Frances Center's In Reality, also a winter stakes winner, is next in line at 3-1 followed by Michael J. Phipps' Gentleman James at 6-1 and the Wheatley Stable's Bold Monarch at 8-1.

The Wheatley Stable and trainer Eddie Neely also are sending Disciplinarian and Top Bid after the Santa Anita Derby, and Bold and Brave in the Campbell.

The Santa Anita Derby, in its 30th running, is considered one of the most wide open events in the track's history. In addition to the entry of Disciplinarian and Top Bid, the field includes two other pairings, with the duo of Mr. and Mrs. Bert W. Martin's Rising Market and Serve Notice, both stakes winners this winter, the probable choice. The other entry is trainer Charlie Whittingham's tandem of Tumble Wind from the Rock Spring Farm and Llangollen Farm and Mrs. Howard B. Keck's Rimal.

With 13 starters, the Santa Anita headline will have a gross value of $139,900 with $94,900 going to the winner.

Bold and Brave, carrying 118 pounds, is the pre-race favorite to carry the Wheatley Silks to victory in the Campbell. Seasoned by racing in Florida, the 4-year-old son of Bold Ruler stands to pick up $73,450 of the $113,000 purse if he starts.

The King Ranch's highly regarded Indulto is coming out of winter quarters in Columbia, S.C., to make his 4-year-old debut. Hirsch Jacobs, trainer of the Flamingo entry of Reflected Glory and Reason to Hall, will be represented by his wife's Understanding. Indulto is top-weighted under 120 pounds, while Understanding, also a Florida campaigner, will pick up 113.

The reputation of the Doral course was ripped to pieces as 38 players broke par and 21 more equaled it.

Rookie Helps Philadelphia to Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Any time the Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia 76ers are on the same court, even in a double-header, all eyes usually are on Boston's Bill Russell and the 76ers' Wilt Chamberlain.

But Thursday, the night really belonged to Matt Guokas, the 76ers' 20-year-old rookie, who helped boost the National Basketball Association leaders to another victory.

Guokas played 20 minutes in the game between Philadelphia and San Francisco, made 5-8 from the field, and 4-6 on the foul line and had five assists, as the 76ers downed the Warriors, 136-128.

In the first half of the double-header, the Boston Celtics survived a late comeback by the Chicago Bulls for a 114-108 victory which kept Boston 6½ games behind Philadelphia.

Guokas, who was drafted first by the 76ers and left St. Joseph's College after his junior year, has been on the bench most of the season.

Lately, Guokas has shown more aggressiveness in his play. Wally Jones, who has had foul troubles in recent games, fouled out as the third quarter ended. Guokas came in and played the whole fourth quarter and helped to spark the 76ers' victory.

Guokas' spark spread to his teammates in the fourth quarter and that turned the tide. The 76ers outscored the Warriors 18-2 in a four minute period to run off with the game.

Earlier, Rick Barry, who was sidelined most of the first half by foul trouble, scored 21 of his game-leading 37 points in the third period to pace the Warriors to a 102-95 lead.

Chamberlain scored 24 and grabbed 38 rebounds for the 76ers.

In the first game, the Celtics blew all but 4 points of their 20-point lead, but came out of danger with a series of last minute free throws. Boston led 97-77 at the end of the third quarter, and coach Bill Russell began calling in substitutes. But the Bulls began pecking away at the lead until with less than three minutes remaining they had narrowed the margin to 4.

However, the Celtics gathered six free throws and a field goal by Sam Jones to insure their victory.

STRESSES GUN SAFETY
CHICAGO (AP) — "Ignorance and carelessness cause hunting accidents," says veteran outdoorsman Art Mercier.

"Youngsters must be taught the skills of shooting and the rules of gun safety before they can earn the right to be called hunters," he says.

His list of rules include: Make the young hunter realize that skill comes with experience.

Teach him to keep the safety "on" except when he is shooting! Drum into him to point the business-end of a gun so that if it goes off there will be no regrets!

Impress upon him that the end of the hunt is the most dangerous, when everyone is tired and more apt to be careless with a gun!

ALTITUDE IS NO RISK
CHICAGO (AP) — The Olympic committee chairman in charge of the health of athletes says Mexico City's 7,300-foot altitude presents no serious risk to competitors.

Herbert H. Stiles of Spokane, Wash., says:

"There is no specific risk at-

Coach of the Year Is UCLA Mentor

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
There seems to be a jinx for most teams once they are named to compete in college basketball's two major postseason tournaments, the NCAA and the NIT.

Five of the first 11 teams to qualify for the NCAA have been beaten since then. And six of the first seven picked for the NIT have lost.

Louisville, Western Kentucky, Connecticut, Virginia Tech and New Mexico State were the beaten NCAA teams. Syracuse, St. Peter's of New Jersey, Rutgers, Marquette, Memphis State and Utah State were the NIT picks to fall.

Tulsa, one of the later teams to be tapped for the NIT, joined the beaten parade Thursday night. The Hurricane was upset by Drake 62-59 at Des Moines, Iowa, as Eldridge Webb, Tulsa's star, managed only 12 points.

Willie McCarter broke a 56-56 tie to put Drake ahead for good with less than three minutes left. Erwin Cox's basket and free throw with four seconds to go sewed it up for the underdog Bulldogs who had absorbed a 82-54 drubbing from Tulsa earlier in the season.

Dolph Pulliam's 13 points were high for Drake. Bobby Smith got 18 for Tulsa. It was the seventh defeat against 18 victories for the Hurricane.

St. John's of New York, Virginia Tech, Southern Methodist, Marquette and Utah State, other tournament-bound teams, wonly belonged to Matt Guokas, the 76ers' 20-year-old rookie, who helped boost the National Basketball Association leaders to another victory.

Guokas played 20 minutes in the game between Philadelphia and San Francisco, made 5-8 from the field, and 4-6 on the foul line and had five assists, as the 76ers downed the Warriors, 136-128.

Clark Was

Clearer

Justice

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court will lose its clearest and best-organized writer when Justice Tom C. Clark retires, sometime before the end of June.
Yet, he has had small recognition for the clarity of the opinions he wrote, perhaps because he was less colorful or controversial than some of the other eight justices.
Now 67 and on the bench since 1949, Clark announced Tuesday his decision to step down after President Johnson named his son, Ramsey Clark, 39, attorney general. The younger Clark had been acting attorney general.
Justice Clark's reason for leaving to avoid any conflict of interest since the Justice Department, under his son, will be handling Supreme Court cases, was not mentioned here where the present and the tremendous impact of its decisions in the past 12

By providing loving care so important to the youngsters, the employed gain some extra money and have the feeling of being needed again. Frenchmen to See a Bit of History

By RALPH DIGHTON
SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) - Frenchmen will see history re-lived next May 21 when a tiny high-wing monoplane circles Paris' Eiffel Tower and flies on to land at Le Bourget Airport.
That's where Charles A. Lindbergh touched down May 21, 1927, after a 33 1/2-hour, 3,600-mile hop from New York that set a record for nonstop solo flight and opened the world's eyes to the potentials of aviation.
The plane that will land at Le Bourget next May is an exact copy of Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis" and the man who will fly it bears a physical resemblance to the slim airman pilot who became overnight a world hero.
He is Frank Tallman whose claim to fame until now has been as a daredevil movie stunt pilot.
Tallman, who at 48 prefers to be known as a corporation president rather than a stuntman, is building the new "Spirit of St. Louis" in one of the Tallmantz Aviation, Inc., hangars at Orange County Airport 40 miles from Los Angeles. He says it is costing him $40,000.
After it is completed next month, Tallman will put the 27-foot-long craft through test flights here, remove the 46-foot wings and load them aboard an Air Force C141 transport. Due to arrive at an airport near Paris early in May, the plane will be reassembled and tested again prior to the 40th anniversary flight.
From May 26 to June 4 the plane will be on display at the Paris Air Show. Beyond that, Tallman says the plans are indefinite.
"This is the only true replica of the 'Spirit of St. Louis' that has ever been built for flight," Tallman says. "We followed exactly the blueprints which Ryan Aeronautics of San Diego drew up to Lindbergh's specifications."
The original plane, named in honor of St. Louis citizens who funded its construction, now hangs in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Variety of Factors Cause Occasional Chest Pains
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Do people who have had coronary heart attacks continue to have chest pains occasionally as long as they live? What would cause these pains and how serious are they?
A—There are many causes of chest pain. Persons with angina pectoris may get attacks for the rest of their lives. These attacks may be precipitated by sudden exposure to cold, sudden exertion or even by lying down. The pain of angina is due to a spasm in one of the coronary arteries which reduces the blood supply to the heart muscle. Pain in the chest may also be caused by gas in the stomach or intestines, by gall bladder disease and by many other disorders. The seriousness and the treatment would depend on the cause.

Q—I recently had a blood test and the doctor says I have glycoproteins in my blood. What can I do to get rid of them?
A—Glycoproteins are a constituent of mucus and cartilage. Since they are an essential part of your blood and tissues why don't you plan to keep them?

Q—What causes palpitation of the heart? Is there anything I can do for it?
A—Palpitation, an acute awareness of your heart's action, is a nervous phenomenon. One of the chief causes of chronic palpitation is worry about the palpitation. Any other source of worry will do just as well. Millions of persons who can't face their worries are now taking tranquilizers but this is a poor substitute for getting your worries out in the open, then laying them to rest.

Q—My husband is 40. For years he has had an average pulse of 98 when he is awake and 84 when he is asleep. His electrocardiograms have been normal. He smokes a lot. Is this fast a pulse harmful?
A—If tests show that your husband's heart is normal

other tests should be made to see whether he has an overactive thyroid. Since smoking causes an increase in the heart rate, this could be the cause or at least an added factor. It would be impossible to say how harmful your husband's fast pulse is without knowing more about its causes.

Q—I had two severe coronary attacks two years ago. My doctor says I should keep active but lie down the minute I get tired. My friends say I should disregard the doctor's orders and keep going. What do you recommend?
A—As a famous comedian has said, "With such friends, who needs enemies?" Follow your doctor's orders.

Q—What causes palpitation of the heart? Is there anything I can do for it?
A—Palpitation, an acute awareness of your heart's action, is a nervous phenomenon. One of the chief causes of chronic palpitation is worry about the palpitation. Any other source of worry will do just as well. Millions of persons who can't face their worries are now taking tranquilizers but this is a poor substitute for getting your worries out in the open, then laying them to rest.

Q—My husband is 40. For years he has had an average pulse of 98 when he is awake and 84 when he is asleep. His electrocardiograms have been normal. He smokes a lot. Is this fast a pulse harmful?
A—If tests show that your husband's heart is normal

other tests should be made to see whether he has an overactive thyroid. Since smoking causes an increase in the heart rate, this could be the cause or at least an added factor. It would be impossible to say how harmful your husband's fast pulse is without knowing more about its causes.

Q—I recently had a blood test and the doctor says I have glycoproteins in my blood. What can I do to get rid of them?
A—Glycoproteins are a constituent of mucus and cartilage. Since they are an essential part of your blood and tissues why don't you plan to keep them?

This hand cost a National Championship back in the '30s. It was board-a-match team of four in which your score is compared only with the score of the pair playing the hand against your partners.

South was one of a group of experts who like to outguess themselves. He looked over dummy carefully and decided that North at the other table would be playing in six no-trump. He saw that six no-trump would not make unless declarer would pick up four heart tricks and the only way to do that would be to find East with specifically the king and one heart. So this unlucky expert won the spade lead in dummy and led a heart to his queen. He was going to make seven hearts if he could find that king-small with East, and would still make six hearts against any 3-2 heart break.

South wasn't dismayed when West produced the king but he was rather upset when West showed out on the second heart lead. South had to go down one trick. He did explain to his partner, "It shouldn't make any difference. Our opponents will be in six no-trump and will go down two."

North wasn't at all impressed. He pointed out that the six heart contract was a very good one and that it was up to South to play safe to make it and that the safety play would have been to play the ace of hearts just to guard against a singleton king. South could not guard against four to the king by any line of play, so all the finesse did was to give some chance to make seven.

How bad was South's play? It was really bad. At the other table North and South did get to three no-trump and did make four, so six hearts bid and made would have been a winner.

LBJ Defends Bombs, RFK Wants Halt

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's icy repudiation of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's call for a peace-seeking halt to bombing of North Vietnam emphasizes their escalating differences.

Johnson twice defended the bombing almost as Kennedy spoke Thursday, but the White House said he would not comment on the Kennedy proposals.

Within hours, however, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, rejected the New York Democrat's proposal that the United States stop bombing the Communist North and announce: "We are ready to negotiate within the week."

Rusk said the Communists already have spurned such a formula. Westmoreland said in Saigon that any pause in bombing "will cost many additional lives and probably prolong the conflict."

Johnson forearmed a Senate rally with a letter declaring the air attacks imperative and saying they will persist until the Hanoi government makes a serious move toward peace.

It bore Wednesday's date and provided an instant rebuttal when Kennedy stood in the Senate to deliver his well-advised speech on peace moves in Vietnam.

Shortly before, Johnson had discussed the bombing at a surprise news conference.

Kennedy sent an advance copy of his proposals to the White House — which said the manuscript had been passed on to the State Department.

George Christian, press secretary, said Johnson did not read the text.

While Kennedy began his speech by saying Johnson is "entitled to our hopeful sympathy, our understanding and our support in the search for peace," the 12 pages that followed were dotted with harsh words about American tactics in the Southeast Asian war.

It added up to a major expansion of the gap between the President and the senator, political heir to his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

"We should reach for the moment of promise which may have come," Kennedy told two dozen Senate colleagues and an audience that crowded the galleries. "The fact of the matter is that the bombing of the North can be stopped as a step toward peace without effectively weakening our position in the South."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., was Johnson's spokesman on the Senate floor. It was Jackson who made public, minutes after the Kennedy speech began, the President's letter praising, defending and standing firm on the air war in North Vietnam.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

LONG BINH, Vietnam — (NEA)—A kind of battle of the sexes is escalating rapidly as a sorry sight to this war and the frustrated U.S. military command seems to be losing it.

Each week almost as many GIs are put out of action because of illicit fraternization as are wounded in combat.

Loneliness is the problem. AWOLs are increasing. So are bargirl brawls.

And venereal disease is almost endemic.

Thus far, authorities have been almost helpless. From time to time a crackdown is announced but they have been sadly inept.

A battalion commander in the 25th Infantry, for example, recently proclaimed his intention to punish wrongdoing soldiers in his unit by writing to their parents.

A company sergeant in the same division once lined up offenders for a full-blown unit formation.

And 196th Brigade troopers in Tay Ninh are strictly forbidden "even to drink soda water" in that small Cambodian border village.

Such hard-nosed solutions invariably fail. And often they serve only to perpetuate the problem. Soldiers who know their commanders are punitively hard on romantic delinquents may suppress their

Chattanooga and Chicago on Star's 4-Color Machine

Editor The Star: We are quite impressed with the color that you have been printing with your new Berkey machine.

Would it be possible to get some information on this machine or at least the address of the company distributing or manufacturing it. I realize that it is the Berkey Technical Corp. in New York, but do not know their address.

We are quite interested in exploring the possibilities of utilizing this in Chattanooga. Cordially

Ed. Note: By this time we are an old hand at answering inquiries from most of the 50 States and Canada about the Berkey Direct Screen System for printing four-color photographs. We have developed a packet of photo copies of detailed letters and national magazine reprints, and all this information has gone out to Chattanooga, as with previous inquiries.

The American Press, national graphic arts monthly of Chicago, published in its February issue a detailed technical article on the new Berkey machine, including a picture of its co-inventor, Arve Jensen, who made Hope Star's installation Jan. 23-24, written by Harry L. Parker, executive vice-president of Berkey Technical Corp. I wrote American Press for permission to photograph and publish this article in The Star, enclosing copies of our first two process color editions, Jan. 28 and Feb. 15, and have received the following reply:

Editor The Star: Here in Chicago this year we are pulling a switch on the Bible in that we seem to be having 40 days and 40 nights of snow rather than rain. In fact, it is snowing right now. Then you drop a tear-sheet of your February 15 front page on our desk showing in full color "Spring in Arkansas." As the TV comedians would say, "You sure know how to hurt a fellow."

Yes, of course you have our permission to reprint the article dealing with the Berkey system as it appeared in our February edition. Thank you for the request, and thank you for the credit line offer.

Congratulations on the tremendous job you did both in your camera department and your press room on this spring-time picture. We are planning to continue to devote considerable space from now on to the subject of newspaper color, and I hope you find it interesting. We shall be particularly interested in any further reports you care to make to us concerning your experience with color, particularly as you may apply it to advertising and develop additional revenue out of it. Thank you again for your letter, and very best regards. Cordially

Mr. Michael's remarks on the application of process color printing to advertising reminds me that we are getting inquiries on this from local advertisers—but as yet we can't answer them. The reason is that we can't guarantee delivery of separation negatives—or price them—during this pioneering work with the new Berkey machine. As soon as this writer and the staff have mastered the machine we'll be "in business." This refers only to local process color—the reproduction of actual photographs, in which separation negatives are required. Four-color printing from nationally-furnished proofs or negatives is available, of course, and has been for some time.

Flood Damaged Library Re-opens

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Parts of the Central National Library of Florence were re-opened to the public today for the first time since volumes and archives of the library were badly damaged in the November flood.

Bertrand Mystery Man in JFK Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Clay Bertrand evolved today as the mystery man in Dist. Atty. James Garrison's probe of the Kennedy assassination.

Clay Bertrand, says Garrison, was an alias used by Clay Shaw, the prominent New Orleans resident the district attorney arrested and booked on conspiracy to commit murder.

"I have never used the name 'Clay Bertrand' in my life. I never use it. I never heard of it," said Shaw, free on $10,000 bond, at a 10-minute news conference Thursday.

Clay Bertrand "is mostly a voice on the phone," said attorney Dean Andrews Jr., an attorney and a Warren Commission witness summoned to Garrison's office Thursday.

Garrison's office, in applying for a warrant to search Shaw's French Quarter residence, said in an affidavit that at meetings held in September 1963 "there was an agreement and combination among Clay Shaw (alias Clay Bertrand), Lee Harvey Oswald, and David W. Ferrie and others to kill John F. Kennedy."

The document says the evidence about the meetings came from an unnamed informant, whose statements were corroborated while he was under the influence of sodium pentothal, or truth serum.

Oswald, a New Orleans native who was in this city from late April 1963 until Sept. 25, 1963, was named as the assassin of President Kennedy by the Warren Commission, which said "the possibility of others being involved with either Oswald or (Jack) Ruby cannot be established categorically, but if there is any such evidence it has been beyond the reach of all the investigative agencies and resources of the United States and has not come to the attention of this commission."

Ferrie, a pilot and part-time investigator, died last week while under investigation by Garrison's office. Coroner Nicholas Chetta says Ferrie's death was due to natural causes. Garrison said it was suicide.

Garrison isn't telling what he knows about Clay Bertrand. The last public appearance by the district attorney was Wednesday night, shortly after the dramatic announcement of the arrest of Shaw. He said Shaw "will be charged with participation in a conspiracy to murder John F. Kennedy."

Shaw, a decorated Army officer in World War II who retired Oct. 1, 1965 after 18 years as managing director of the International Trade Mart here, calmly called his arrest "fantastic" at his news conference.

Earlier in the day, Ramsey Clark, the new U.S. attorney general, said the FBI had investigated Shaw late in 1963 and cleared him of any link with the assassination.

The FBI would not say what prompted its investigation of Shaw and Shaw himself said he had no knowledge of an investigation at that time, Shaw was in San Francisco on Nov. 22, 1963 — the day Kennedy was shot in Dallas.

Forest Fire Out of Control

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A forest fire raged out of control on Sugarloaf Mountain about 40 miles south of here Thursday night after it already had destroyed more than 1,000 acres.

Strong winds whipped the two-day-old blaze across the steep, hilly terrain, hampering the efforts of firefighters.

Jim Talley, state forest commissioner, said that more than 2,300 acres of farmland and forest were destroyed Wednesday in 37 fires.

Cong Builds Up Force for Invasion

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese army has built up a possible invasion force of some 35,000 men along the 17th parallel separating North and South Vietnam, informed sources said today.

The sources said three Communist divisions are in the area — one immediately north of the demilitarized zone dividing Vietnam and two operating from the six-mile zone or the adjoining South Vietnamese province of Quang Tri.

The North Vietnamese have maintained two divisions in this area for several months, intelligence officers say. The additional division apparently moved to within striking distance of the border within the past 30 days, the sources said.

The disclosure was made shortly after Gen. William C. Westmoreland in a statement said U.S. forces must continue bombing North Vietnam as long as Hanoi continues to move large numbers of troops and war supplies southward.

The U.S. military command in Vietnam said that to halt the bombing now would increase the loss of American lives and probably prolong the war.

Although the U.S. Command doesn't know what plans the North Vietnamese have for their troops along the 17th Parallel, informed military sources said the force once again has the capability of attacking across the demilitarized zone.

Such an attack was anticipated last year but the U.S. Marines launched Operation Hasting and badly bloodied North Vietnam's 324B division. U.S. officers said the Reds then had a well developed plan to push two divisions into the northern part of South Vietnam to try to seize control of Quang Tri Province at least.

Informed sources said the present role of the North Vietnamese troops in the area appears to be largely to pin down U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in order to weaken their pacification efforts in the 1st Corps area, a region of traditional dissidence to the Saigon government.

The Red force in the rugged, jungled area in the western part of the demilitarized zone is also a covering force for the infiltration of men and supplies into the South.

Informed military sources said there has been no sign of any decrease in the flow of troops and supplies from the North.

Minority Families Pay More Rent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Minority group families live in less desirable quarters than other families with the same income, yet the minority families pay more, a UCLA study shows.

Dr. Fred E. Case, acting director of the real estate research program at UCLA, said a study showed that:

— Few minority group families own homes "and these are almost invariably of the oldest vintage and poorest condition."

— Rental housing available to them "is equally poor."

— Mexican-American families generally spend less on housing than do Negroes, and live in poorer housing.

Government Experts See an Upsurge in Economic Slowdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some call the economic situation a slowdown. Others see it as a pause, a readjustment or just plain sluggishness.

But government experts are unanimous in one view — the current picture is far removed from a recession, which they believe just isn't in the cards.

Administration officials, despite a marked slowing in economic activity, continue to look for an upsurge later this year and contend the current sluggishness was anticipated fully when President Johnson recommended a 6 per cent surtax to go into effect July 1.

Some private experts have expressed fear the tax increase might force a downturn or even a recession.

Production dropped sharply in January and the experts expect the government index to show another drop in February, especially in view of falling auto sales.

Retail sales virtually were unchanged in January but employment increased that month, the latest for which figures are available.

Government figures on corporate profits have not been compiled for the last three months of 1966.

One government analyst said a resurgence in housing construction, increased state and local spending and the new Social Security benefits proposed by Johnson are some reasons to expect an upturn in economic activity.

The government's prediction for a 4 per cent rise in real growth this year still stands, he said.

But the first quarter rise in Gross National Product, the value of all goods and services produced in the economy, could be the smallest in more than two years.

It's believed that GNP might increase by less than $10 billion during the first three months of the year, the lowest since the $6.3-billion increase for the last quarter of 1964.

A Federal Reserve Board spokesman said this week's easing of bank credit, by dropping from 4 per cent to 3 per cent the amount of reserves banks must hold against savings accounts, was taken against the backdrop of slower economic activity.

The government completed Thursday the economic picture for January by reporting a substantial decline in new factory orders and a continuing increase in inventories.

Rising inventories frequently precede an economic downturn. The Commerce Department said new orders for durable goods dropped 6.7 per cent instead of the 5.1 per cent reported earlier. This factor is supposed to indicate future economic activities.

War Casualties Have Increased 50 Per Cent in Three Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam are surging upward at a percentage rate nearly matching Communist losses.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Wednesday that enemy casualties have increased 40 to 50 per cent the last three months. He did not mention U.S. losses.

But Defense Department figures show today that the rate of U.S. deaths for the last two weeks of stepped-up military action and for the first eight weeks of 1967, when compared to last year, are approaching the rates of Communist increase for the same periods.

Record Communist losses the last two weeks — 2,332 and 2,032 for a 2,182 average — were 106 per cent above the enemy's 1966 weekly combat loss average of 1,060.

Defense Department figures show 163 and 172 U.S. combat dead during the same two weeks — 74 per cent above last year's 96 per week fatality rate.

So far in 1967, U.S. combat losses are running 33 per cent higher than last year at 128 a week.

This is almost even with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong, whose average weekly death total for the first eight weeks this year is up 35 per cent — 1,435 per week this year compared with 1,060 per week in 1966.

Early this year, U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam Henry Cabot Lodge, said in an interview, "I believe the purely military part of the war — which is what the Americans are engaged in — will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining."

Lodge would not amplify on his prediction, but indicated he meant that in coming months U.S. battle deaths as a percentage of the over-all American strength will decline.

The United States has 415,000 men in South Vietnam at present. Sources say the administration is looking for 475,000 by the end of the year, barring unforeseen changes in the war.

At the current rate of losses, the United States in 1967 would suffer nearly 6,700 combat deaths in Southeast Asia. Last year's toll, with fewer troops in the country, was 5,008.

In 1966 Communist battlefield fatalities exceeded U.S. losses by 11 to 1 — about 55,000 to 5,000.

So far this year the enemy has suffered 7,378 dead by official tabulations, compared with 1,024 American losses, a ratio of about 7 to 1.

During the last two weeks, South Vietnamese combat dead averaged 240, or 24 per cent higher than the 1966 weekly average of 182.

For this year South Vietnamese combat losses are averaging 208 per week compared to 182 per week last year.

U.S. combat deaths in Vietnam are surging upward at a percentage rate nearly matching that of Communist losses.

President Johnson's repudiation of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's call for a peace-seeking halt to the bombing of North Vietnam is an indication of their widening differences.

Informed sources say the North Vietnamese army has built up a possible invasion force of about 35,000 men along the 17th parallel separating North and South Vietnam.

U.S. Bombs Kill 83 Civilians

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON (AP) — Bombers which one U.S. spokesman said are presumed to have been allied struck a South Vietnamese village near the Laotian border Thursday night, killing 83 civilians and wounding another 200, the U.S. Command announced today.

A U.S. spokesman, announcing the toll of the bombing, said it still was not determined whether the planes were American, South Vietnamese or enemy.

However another spokesman in the northernmost 1st Corps area where the attack occurred said the bombs presumably were dropped in error by allied aircraft on the government village, which is protected by a U.S. Special Forces camp.

If it was an accidental bombing it would be the worst such tragedy announced so far in the war.

The bombing took place five hours after a U.S. helicopter was shot down in the area and was carried out virtually under the noses of the Special Forces men stationed on a hill above the village, which is named Lang Vei. The village is filled with refugees who had fled from the Viet Cong for government security.

The airstrike just at sunset presumably was also witnessed by U.S. Marines stationed at Khe Son, some five miles from the village, which sits astride Route 9, the natural invasion route from Communist-controlled areas of Laos.
